SNAKE BITE

Have you ever teased an animal? What did your elders have to say to you? How did the animal react? Did you think about how the animal felt? In this story, the narrator Raja, is an innocent young boy. He is adventurous and likes to meddle with creatures like snakes and bees. His grandparents are concerned about his well-being and safety. Once when a bee stings him, they think he has been bitten by a snake. His grandfather takes him to a man whom he believes can cure snake bite. Let us read the story and see what happens.

OBJECTIVES

After completing this lesson you will be able to:

• discuss the theme of the story;
• relate to the feelings and behaviour of reptiles and other living creatures;
• think critically about people’s superstitions and blind faith in untrained medicine men;
• think critically about the myth that all snakes are dangerous;
• realise the importance of timely and effective communication;
• realise that silence is not always good;
• use some new words in meaningful sentences;
• give the past tense form of some commonly used verbs;
• discriminate between regular and irregular verbs;
• form adverbs from adjectives and use them appropriately;
• frame requests and enquiries, and
• write short descriptions of people.
One day I saw a small snake in the compound. It was crawling along slowly but when it saw me, it moved away quickly and hid itself in a coconut shell. I quietly went near and closed the mouth of the coconut shell with a stone. Then I took the shell and ran to Grandmother.

“Look, Grandma,” I cried, “I have caught a snake.”

“Snake?” asked Grandmother in alarm. She was shocked. She cried for help. Grandfather came running. When he learnt that I had a snake in the shell, he snatched the shell and threw it away.

The snake crawled away and disappeared behind some bushes. Grandfather warned me never to go near a snake, because snakes were very dangerous.

Later in the evening, I tried to catch a bee and it stung me on my finger. I felt a sharp pain. I ran to grandmother and told her that I had been bitten and wanted her to do something to stop the pain. Grandmother thought that I had been bitten by a snake. She called out to Grandfather, “Come and see what has happened to Raja.”

Grandfather came at once. He looked at my finger and there was a blue mark. Without a word he took me in his arms and started running. He ran across the garden and through the paddy fields. He ran and ran and did not stop until he reached a small house quite some distance away from our home. Then he shouted for the man who lived there.

An old grey haired man came out of the house. He knew the cure for snake bite. Grandfather asked him to cure me. The old man took me inside. He looked at my finger and then asked me to sit down and not to move. I sat on Grandfather’s lap. The old man then took some water in a small brass vessel, sat in front of us and started reciting some mantras.

I wanted to tell him that it was a bee and not a snake that had bitten me. But Grandfather held me tight and did not allow me to talk. Grandmother too had arrived by then and some other people with her. They looked sad and silently watched me.

By this time the pain in my finger had stopped. But still I had to sit there and get cured of ‘snake bite.’

After a few minutes, the old man got up, washed my finger and gave me some water to drink. He asked me to keep quiet for some more time. Then he turned to Grandfather and said, “Thank God, you brought Raja in time. He is out of danger now. It was indeed a poisonous snake that bit him.”

Grandfather, Grandmother and all others thanked the old man for the magic cure. On returning home, Grandfather sent him gifts.

LET US TALK 1.1

Making requests

Practice the following dialogues with a friend.

A:

You: Could you open this bottle for me please?
Friend: Sure..
You: Thank you.
B.

When you ask someone to do something for you, or ask for permission to do something, it is important to sound polite. Here are some ways in which you can do this.

Requesting someone to do something for you:

“Could you shut the door for me, please?”

“Would you mind passing the paper, please?”

“Can you suggest a movie I could watch over the weekend?”

Asking someone for permission to do something:

“Can I use your computer, please?”

“Could you lend me some money?”

“Do you mind if I turn on the fan?”

Exercise

Now use the examples given above to make simple requests. Ask your friend for some help in doing something, ask for directions to go somewhere, or ask for a dictionary.

1.2.2 PART 2

Later in the evening ..................... lived there.

Do you like playing with animals? Did you or anyone you know ever get scratched by a cat or bitten by a dog while playing? How did your parents react to this? Raja is curious about creatures like snakes and bees. In the evening when he tries to catch a bee he gets stung. He picks him up and runs to the house of a man who he believes can help them. Raja does not get a chance to tell any one that he has been bitten by a bee and not a snake. Sometimes people misunderstand and react to situations without listening or asking questions. Has this ever happened to you?

An old gray haired man................. Grandfather sent him gifts.

His grandfather picks him up and runs across the fields to the house of a medicine man. The medicine man convinces them that Raja’s life is in danger
Snake Bite

Task 2.

1.3 LET US LEARN GRAMMAR

The Verb

We can classify verbs as regular verbs and irregular verbs.
Snake Bite

Regular verbs

Read the following sentences appearing in the story:
1. Grandmother was shocked to see the snake in the coconut shell.
2. She called out to Grandfather.
3. They reached a small house.
4. Then he shouted for the man who lived there.

• The underlined verbs are in the simple past tense; they refer to actions that happened in the past.
• To form simple past tense verbs from simple present tense verbs we just add ‘-d’ or ‘-ed’ to the verb.

  e.g.  shock + ed = shocked call + ed= called reach + ed = reached shout + ed = shouted live + d = lived
  dive + d = dived
  like + d = liked

• These verbs are regular verbs because they have ‘-d’ or ‘-ed’ endings as a regular feature in the past tense.

Irregular Verbs

Read the following sentences:
1. I took the shell and ran to Grandmother.
2. He snatched the shell and threw it away.
3. Look, Grandma, I caught a snake.

• The underlined verbs are irregular verbs; they do not end in ‘-d’ or ‘-ed’.
• All verbs do not take the ‘d’ or ‘ed’ endings to form the past tense. In some verbs there is a change in spellings in the past tense form as you see in the above sentences.

• Examples:

  simple present tense  simple past tense take              took throw            threw catch            caught
• Given below are some more examples of irregular verbs:

- run → ran
- hear → heard
- bring → brought
- buy → bought
- deal → dealt
- bind → bound

• Some verbs remain the same in the past tense as they are in the present tense.

• Examples:

  We put (simple present tense) some extra sugar in our tea.
  I am sorry I put (simple past tense) salt instead of sugar yesterday.

Exercise 1

Find five examples each of past tense forms of regular and irregular verbs in the story.

Exercise 2

Write the simple past tense of the following verbs. Put them in column A (regular) or column B (irregular) as the case may be.

- draw, walk, manage, hold, ask, forgive, drive,
- meet, swim, repair, shake, cook, ring, clean,
- enjoy, bear, lead, cheat, write, eat,

Exercise 3

Give two examples of verbs that are the same in the present and past tense.

Adverbs

Read the following sentences.

• She reads the newspaper.
• She reads the newspaper silently.

In the first sentence reads is an action word (verb).

In the second sentence silently tells us how she reads i.e. it tells us something more about the verb. It is an adverb.

As you know verbs are action words. Adverbs are words that tell us something more about verbs.
Read the following sentences.

- He speaks loudly.
- She walks slowly.
- She dresses up beautifully.
- He walks fast.

The underlined words are adverbs.

Usually adverbs are formed by adding ‘ly’ to adjectives.

Examples:

- loud + ly = loudly
- slow + ly = slowly
- beautiful + ly = beautifully

However, some adverbs are exceptions to this rule. We do not add ‘ly’ to some adjectives to make adverbs. For example we say ‘I walk fast’. We do not say ‘I walk fastly’.

Exercise 4

Form adverbs from the adjectives and use them in your own sentences.

- neat, nice, soft, clear, elegant, careful, regular, graceful

LET US DO 1.3

1. Do you know that there are several branches of Traditional Medicine in India? Some examples are Ayurveda, Homeopathy, and Unani. Speak with a doctor in your locality to understand the difference between Western Medicine (Allopathy) and Traditional Medicine (Ayurveda, Homeopathy, Unani).

2. Speak with your mother and write down a list of things found at home that she uses to cure simple ailments. For example she might use ginger for stomach upsets.

WHAT YOU HAVE LEARNT

We learnt that in an emergency it is very important to find out what happened before reacting, if we want to avoid making mistakes. Sometimes we unnecessarily complicate situations because we are influenced by our wrong beliefs, lack of knowledge and fear of even harmless things. The simple problem of Raja’s bee sting got complicated due to all of the above reasons. We also learnt that we should beware of untrained medicine men (like the old man in the story) who cheat innocent people by creating fear in their minds.
