

National Institute of Open Schooling
Senior Secondary Course : Geography (316)
Lesson 26: Population Density, Distribution and Growth in India
Worksheet -26

1. Define density of population. How the density of population is calculated?
2. Describe the factors affecting distribution and density of population.
3. Density of population is uneven in India. Explain with the help of suitable map.
4. Differentiate between positive and negative growth rates.
5. Describe the various phases of population growth in India in last 100 years.
6. Define migration. What kind of migration we observe in India?
7. Describe the key characteristics of Intra-state migration in India.
8. Explain the push and pull factors causing migration in India.
9. “Consequences of migration are as diverse as causes”. Examine.
10. Explain the present migration trends in India.