

National Institute of Open Schooling
Senior Secondary Course: Mass Communication
Lesson 10 : The Radio Station
Worksheet - 10

1. Programme broadcast at radio station have three different stages. Give the name of all the stages and discuss its importance.
2. Control room has more importance in any radio station. Discuss the two main functions of control room of the radio station.
3. Radio Programme is broadcasted by the help of a transmitter. Give the names of two types of transmissions and write a brief note on any one of them.
4. Various trained personnel are responsible for operating the radio station. Mention the names of any five personnel and describe them.
5. The history of radio broadcasting in India is very old. Explain in detail how AIR broadcasting service works.
6. What is FM radio? Do a comparative study between Akashwani and private F.M radio channel.
7. Tune in to any FM radio in your area and listen to ten programs. Describe the importance of these programs in your own words.
8. Language plays an important role in the performance of an announcer in radio broadcasting. Write an article on the importance of languages in radio broadcasting.
9. What do you understand by Community Radio? Listen to the broadcast of Radio Vahini, Community Radio of NIOS at www.nios.ac.in and write an article on it.
10. All India Radio is one of the largest broadcasting organization in the world. Write your thoughts on this statement.