

National Institute of Open Schooling
Senior Secondary Course: Mass Communication
Lesson 11 Formats of Radio Programs
Worksheet 11

1. Classify the radio programmes. Experience the usefulness of programs according to time and share them in written.
2. Radio program production is divided into three parts. Listen to a radio program and discuss it in your family by identifying its different levels.

Level

Pronunciation
Song
Sound

3. Radio talk is an important format of radio. Listen to a radio talk on any one social topic and write your experience.
4. You are working as an announcer in a radio channel. Information is to be sought from an educationist on the Right to Education Act. Which format of radio will you use to convey the above information to your listeners?
5. What do you understand by radio Documentary? Listen to a radio documentary on any topic and answer keeping in mind its usefulness.
6. Show the different elements of radio format with the help of a table
7. Classical music is divided into various forms. Listen to programs based on all forms and write five applications based on your experience.
8. Sound plays an important role in radio programmes. What type of sound would you choose in the radio programme on the topic “water conservation and management”? Explain with the help of a radio advertisement on the afore mentioned topic.
9. Give a comparative study of Phone-in-Programme and Radio Bridge Programme.
10. When did All India Radio's Internet start? Give answer in this regard. Internet has contributed immensely in the spread of radio programmes, describe the five characteristics of internet radio.