

National Institute of Open Schooling
Senior Secondary Course- Political Science
Lesson 27: India's relations with USA and Russia
Worksheet – 27

- Q.1 United States of America and Russia emerged as superpowers after the second world war and post-independence India wanted to have good relationship with both, explain the statement and write down the importance of cordial relations with powerful countries.
- Q.2 India had the goodwill for its independence in united states and US showed his trust for India's efforts for Britain. in the light to the statement examine the relation between India and US.
- Q.3 The relation between United states and India failed to achieve the full potential because United States had the preoccupation of communism,about the statement explain the India-US relation in cold war.
- Q.4 Post independence was the tough time for India and united states provided the aid to India to grow and get stable financially, write down the details of the Support provided by United states.
- Q.5 The contemporary relation between US and India has been close and cordial, write down the advantages of good relationship with a country holding a tag being superpower.
- Q.6 US has provided a large bilateral development assistance to India in the field of agriculture and heavy-duty industries, assess the India's development in both the fields after Independence.
- Q.7 “The International development authority and world bank supported in the growth of the Indian economy”, in context to the statement write down the features of international development authority and world bank.
- Q.8 India has become the nuclear power after doing the peaceful trial of Pokhran, explain the India's status as a nuclear power country in the world.
- Q.9 “India's friendship with Russia has not changed even after Russia is not a superpower anymore”, write down the signification of the friendship between India and Russia.
- Q.10 India has always been considered as the friendly country and it has followed the path of peace, write down your views for the given statement.