NOTIFICATION-19/2025

Subject: Release of Supplementary material for selected vocational courses in the ICT Sector

In accordance with the directive to update the content of existing ICT courses to reflect recent advancements in widely used technologies, particularly operating systems, supplementary material has been developed.

This material aims to equip learners enrolled in NIOS vocational ICT courses with updated knowledge relevant to current technological environments, thereby enhancing their industry readiness. It will serve as an additional learning resource until the ongoing curriculum revision.

The supplementary material is applicable to the following courses:

1. Certificate in Basic Computing (608)
2. Certificate in Computer and Office Applications (631)
3. Certificate in Data Entry Operations (632)
4. Computer Hardware Assembly and Maintenance (663)

The content will be provided as self-learning material and will also be accessible through NIOS digital platforms. This material will not alter the current course structure and evaluation scheme of applicable courses.

The material will be introduced in vocational courses offered in integration with academic subjects (Subject Codes: 608 and 631) starting from the current academic session, i.e., Block I, 2025.

For independent vocational courses (Subject Codes: 608, 632, and 663), it will be implemented from the next session of vocational admission cycle, i.e., Block II, 2025.
